

Quality Brands Mean Quality Produce...

At Costa, we've always placed our trust in partnering with the nation's best growers and utilizing their top brands. For food safety reasons, it is very important to know where your produce was grown and packed. Growers of quality brands clearly label their products with the quality grade, quantity and the state and country of origin. Growers like Dole, Sunkist, Driscoll, AndyBoy and Taylor Farms take the greatest pride in their own brand and we believe they pack only their best product under their own label.

Remember...at Costa, quality brands mean quality produce.
